Taking The Mobility Opportunity.....

Why get equipped to take the "mobility opportunity"?

- There are now 7.1 billion people on Earth and 7.4 billion mobile phone accounts (as people in some nations have two accounts)
- Even in the least developed nations mobile penetration rates are over 60%
- Phones can now deliver a wide range of gospel media
- The mobile web is exploding with some major nations such as India, China, and Egypt having close to 70% of web visits on mobile devices. Kenya is over 90% mobile only web.

92% of people keep their mobile phone within 3 feet of them at all times

It Just Makes Sense!

Distribution of bibles and gospel media is a very vital part of evangelism and missions. We need to get the good news into as many hands as possible, as efficiently as possible.

And what do most people now have in their hand? A mobile phone! The phone is where their minds and hearts dwell so we need to share the gospel "on their phone"!

About The Course

The Mobile Ministry Training Course is a 6 week online, do-at-your-own pace course. It is designed for students all around the world, in multiple time zones, so you do NOT have to log-on at a particular time to catch a lecture.

There are articles, web pages, ebooks, and MP3 files that you go through at your own pace. The course involves about 3 hours of work each week.

Each week you do the readings then discuss them in an online discussion forum. You also get to work on a mobile project of your own in the project forum.

The course is highly practical in-service training which is designed to be applied in your own ministry context. Students from all nations are welcome.

If you have security needs please inform us.

The course coordinator is John Edmiston from Cybermissions in collaboration with the Mobile Ministry Forum.

The cost of the course is $55 with some scholarships available.

You need to enroll online.
